

This CME activity consists of an archived webcast.

Successful completion is achieved by reading, viewing, and listening to the materials, reflecting on its implications in your practice, and completing the assessment components. This activity should take approximately 3.75 hours to complete.

To obtain CME credit, please complete the evaluation and post-test questions following the program. You may also print and return them by mail or fax to the American Academy of CME, Inc. Any questions regarding this CME activity should be directed to:

American Academy of CME, Inc. (AACME, Inc.)

186 Tamarack Circle

Skillman, NJ 08558

Phone: 609-921-6622

Fax: 609-921-6428

www.academycme.org

Release date: January 31, 2006

Expiration date: January 31, 2007

Copyright 2006 AACME and the Lupus Foundation of America. No part of this program may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system or transmitted in any form or by any means without the prior permission from AACME and the Lupus Foundation of America.

Copyright 2006 You-niversity.com Inc. No part of this software and artwork may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system or transmitted in any form or by any means without the prior permission from You-niversity.com Inc.

Privacy Statement

Introduction

You-niversity.com (YDC) is committed to protecting your privacy. We maintain the privacy of your information using security technologies and adhere to policies that prevent unauthorized use of your personal information.

The Lupus Foundation of America

In general, you can visit you-niversity.com without telling us who you are or revealing any personal information about yourself. However, you will not be able to access information that requires registration, and there are services that we will be unable to provide to you. In particular, many courses at you-niversity.com are available only to students who have registered with us.

Registration Information

Our site's registration form requires users to give us contact information (e.g., names, email addresses, country, and telephone number). Your contact information from the registration form may be used to confirm your registration, deliver e-mail notifications to you, and help us to contact you when necessary. Additional, optional information such as mailing address and company affiliation, may be provided by you. This additional information will allow us to better serve you.

In the event that you are a student registered through one of our affiliated institutions or corporate customers, we may receive and update your personal information, based upon information received from the institution or organization that has registered you at YDC. In this case, your personal information is available to you for updating using the user code and password that will be provided to you.

You-niversity.com allows users to correct, update, or remove the personal data they provide to us. Users can change their email address or password using the "Personal Information" Link on the Student's page. Accessing this information requires the user to enter his personal user code and password.

Any information received will be used only for providing services to you at YDC. We do not sell our customer names, addresses, or other information to third parties for any purpose.

IP address

We may use your IP address to help diagnose problems with our server, and to administer our Web site. Your IP address may also be used to customize the information that you receive to make it most relevant to you. In addition, we use the IP address to track the domains from which people visit us and analyze this data for trends and statistics, but the individual user remains anonymous.

Links to other sites

This site contains links to other sites. YDC is not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of such Web sites.

Cookies

You-niversity.com uses a feature of your Internet browser called a "cookie" to assign a unique identification to your computer. Cookies are files that your Web browser places on your computer's hard drive. YDC uses cookies to provide assistance during login processing. Using cookies, your browser can "remember" your user name and password, so that you will not be required to enter the information every time that you log in. If you check the "Remember this password" box when prompted by the browser, and you won't have to type in the information each time you come back. If you are concerned that other people might accidentally use your account, do not check the box. Also, if you use a shared computer (in a university, library, Internet cafe, or other common area) DO NOT check the checkbox.

The Lupus Foundation of America

You may set your browser so that it does not accept cookies. If you choose to do so, you may still browse our Site. However, you might not be able to login, register for courses or attend an online course with us.

Public sites

This site makes chat rooms, forums, and message boards available to its users. Please remember that any information that is disclosed in these areas becomes public information and that you should exercise caution when deciding to disclose your personal information. you-niversity reserves the right to remove any posting that its editors consider inappropriate.

Secured Data

This site has security measures in place to protect the loss, misuse and alteration of the information stored therein. When you access you personal information, we use industry standard Secure Socket Layers (SSL) to encrypt all of your personal information. If you choose to purchase a course online, you will be asked to provide us with credit card information is transmitted through Secure Socket Layer technology. Credit card information that you provide to us is sent to the credit card company for payment using an encrypted interface and is never stored on this site.

For further information

If you have any questions about this privacy statement, the practices of this site, or your dealings with this Web site, you can contact you-niversity.com Inc.

2111 Wilson Blvd. STE 600
Arlington, VA 22201