

This program is designed for specialists in:

Nephrology, Dermatology, Rheumatology, Immunology
and Internal Medicine

At the conclusion of the program, participants should be able to:

- Evaluate new clinical strategies emerging from advances in treatment.
- Optimize safety and efficacy of current treatment options.
- Identify recent research findings and their immediate practical application to the clinic.
- Assess the clinical challenges of lupus management as demonstrated through patient case studies.